

THE ST. JOSEPH OBSERVER.

VOLUME XVI

ST. JOSEPH, MO., SATURDAY, AUGUST 5, 1922

NUMBER 49

DUNCAN WAS THE HIGH MAN IN COUNTY RACE

Made the Top Score in the Democratic Primary Which Was Held Tuesday

A Ticket Selected On Which Every Good Citizen Can Agree and Which Will Triumph

On Tuesday was fought the battle of ballots between the members of the great Democratic party in St. Joseph and Buchanan county, and when the sun went down that night one of the best Democratic tickets for many years had been selected and which will be presented to the voters for their ratification in November—ratification, mind you, for these men are the same as elected now—as this is a DEMOCRATIC YEAR.

Primary day was hot and dusty which was one of the contributing factors in showing up such a light vote. It had been freely predicted that the senatorial contest would bring out a tremendous vote—but it did not—only those coming out who were truly patriotic and devoted to the principles of the grand old Democratic party.

The vote of the women was decidedly disappointing, there being but few—and in some precincts it was almost negligible. Just a little less than a half vote was polled, the ten thousand mark not being reached. The Republicans did even worse, they polling but a trifle over 3,000 ballots. The exciting contests among the Democrats were those of United States senator, prosecuting attorney and recorder of deeds. The complete vote for each democratic county candidate who had opposition was as follows:

For State Senator

Ernest R. James.....4,563
Thomas J. Lyaght.....3,502
Joseph M. Garvey.....1,805

For Judge Circuit Court No. 1

T. B. Allen.....Unopposed
For Judge Circuit Court Division No. 3
W. H. Utz.....5,949
Hobson Hoar.....3,752

Representative First Legislative District

James H. Leonard.....1,387
J. Vernon Gaddy.....1,175

Representative Second Legislative District

Clayton O. Judson.....Unopposed
Representative Third Legislative District
Harry C. Yates.....1,773
S. A. Mallory.....711
Joe Connor.....538
Dudley Sutton.....420
George R. Choun.....299

For President Judge County Court

J. H. McClanahan.....Unopposed
For Judge County Court, First District
Ben A. Stanton.....3,886
Henry Shaper.....2,631
Stanton.....1,255

For Judge County Court, Second District

W. H. Franks.....1,442
Pete Roseler.....727
W. M. Miller.....420
John M. Tetherow.....816
Henry McKendry.....274

For Probate Judge

A. B. Duncan.....6,500
J. N. Walker.....1,900
James C. Gowney.....1,241

For Prosecuting Attorney

DuVal Smith.....5,887
R. M. Duncan.....3,357
W. Herndon Shull.....730

For County Auditor

Smith.....2,530
William R. Campbell.....5,804
Lula E. Trower.....4,013

For Circuit Clerk

Emmett J. Crouse.....Unopposed
For County Clerk
Artemas Ferril.....Unopposed
For County Collector
John Porter Srite.....Unopposed
For Recorder of Deeds
Hugh M. McCauley.....2,947

(Continued on Page Six)

COSTING MORE NOW THAN BEFORE THE WAR

OVER HALF A BILLION IS THE ADDED BILL OF EXPENSE

THAT THE PEOPLE ARE NOW DIGGING UP

In Not One Single Department of the Government Is There Now a Less Showing of Expense Than There Was When Wilson Held the Reins and the Democratic Party Was in the Control of the Fiscal Affairs of This Great Nation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(Continued.)—Three years after the war it is costing over a half billion dollars more—or $536,000,000 more, to be exact—for the legitimate expenses of the government under President Harding than it cost three years before the war for the legitimate expenses of the government under President Wilson.

This fact is set forth in minute detail by Senator Lee Overman (Dem., N. C.), in a public statement. Senator Overman is the ranking minority member of the Senate Appropriations committee, and his purpose in issuing the statement is to refute the distorted and untruthful statements sent out by republican propagandists of alleged great savings and economies of the Harding administration. These statements are wilfully mendacious and are designed not to inform the public, but to deceive it, to fool it, to try to make a monkey of the average citizen who has not the time or inclination to study or analyze government finances.

What Senator Overman means by legitimate expenses of the government, is the expenditures after eliminating all expenditures resulting from the war. In order to be perfectly fair to the Harding administration, Senator Overman deducts two billion six

(Continued on Page 1)

HENRY H. HARTWIG KILLED

Is Accidentally Shot at His Home at an Early Hour Sunday Morning.

The funeral of the late Henry H. Hartwig, secretary of the Smith-Hax Furniture Co., occurred from the home of his mother, 2028 Faraon street, Tuesday afternoon, and was largely attended. Rev. C. Hely Molony conducted the services and burial was in Mount Mora. John Wyeth, James Bruce, Jarrott McCord, Randolph Davis, Ernest Maxwell, Louis Smith, C. C. Burnes and Henry Frank acted as pallbearers.

The death of Mr. Hartwig was peculiarly sad. With his wife, who was Miss Louise Waggoner of Atchison, he had attended a dance at the Country Club. They returned home at an early hour and Mrs. Hartwig retired. He went to the chiffonier to secure a pair of pajamas, and accidentally knocked a revolver to the floor. The discharge sent a ball crashing through his head, and he never spoke. He was 29 years of age, and the only son of the late Ernest C. Hartwig, the son of the late H. R. W. Hartwig.

MRS. JOSEPH A. CORBY AT REST

Funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Elizabeth S. Corby were held at the Cathedral Tuesday when requiem high mass was sung. St. Cecilia's Quartette sang and Hugh McNutt's orchestra rendered Chopin's funeral march and Handel's Largo. The pallbearers were J. J. Eastin, J. J. Cain, J. G. Schneider, J. A. Rolman, E. J. Breen, W. F. Kirkpatrick, S. S. McCord, Chris Neipp, E. M. Sweeney and V. L. Elbert. The remains were temporarily placed in Mount Olivet vault.

PETER KELDER TAKES HIS LIFE

Walking into the sick room of his wife Monday afternoon, from whom he was separated, Peter Kelder, 37 years of age, a Grand Island striker, asked the sick woman to bid him good by. She did so and he pulled out a pistol and fired a shot through his head, dying instantly. The shooting occurred at 2904 South Nineteenth street at noon. The couple were divorced in May.

Frank Heaton, assistant superintendent of the Grain Belt Mills, was badly hurt Thursday when Dick Davis, a discharged workman, hit him on the head with an iron bar.

W. J. Sinnott was fined $10 in police court Thursday for being drunk.

Reed Wins the Senatorial Race

United States Senator James A. Reed

After one of the greatest races ever made in the state, United States Senator James A. Reed won the great honor and against the greatest odds that man has ever been called upon to face in a political race. It is a magnificent tribute to his personal magnetism, his statesmanship and personal worth, and the absolute devoted loyalty of his friends that brought about this splendid result. Senator Reed will be a tower of strength in the campaign now coming on and will lead the party to complete and magnificent victory in November.

In this county he polled 3,782 to 5,955 for Breckinridge Long and 880 for Robt. I. Young. In the state his plurality is about 6,000.

BAD FIRE AT PLANT

The Morris Packing Company Suffers Two Hundred Thousand Damages Tuesday.

It is hardly possible that the heat of the primary set off the big fire that raged for three hours at the Morris packing plant Tuesday night. Short water pressure was the reason assigned that the blaze was not more quickly subdued.

The fire was first discovered on the top floor of the lard refinery and was raging merrily when located. The lard in process of refining and the made article helped to make a wonderfully strong and healthy blaze and gave the 4,000 people who went down to see it, a brilliant spectacle. When the pumpers were gotten to work, progress was made and the blaze finally brought under control, but not before damage estimated at $200,000 had been done. The fire was kept confined to the lard refinery which process was helped by a strong fire wall separating the lard refinery from the main plant. The principal damage done was to the machinery of the lard refinery which was destroyed, as were also a large quantity of the records of the firm which were stored on this floor. Other quarters were found for temporary use by the plant, and business went on the next morning just as though nothing out of the usual had occurred.

PRESTON'S HORSES BURNED TO DEATH

Just how the fire started is not as yet ascertained, but it is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion, but be that as it may, a bad blaze on Thursday night destroyed the John D. Preston Supply Company's building at Fifth and Patee and burned nine head of horses to death and destroyed other property to cause the loss to run up to $7,000.

EDWARD SMITH WAS ELECTROCUTED

Edward Smith, an electrician, 55 years of age of 2317 North Seventh street, where he lived with his wife and son Harry, was electrocuted at 11 o'clock Monday morning, when a cable on which he was working at the plant of the Western Dairy Co. came in contact with a guy wire attached to a smokestack at that plant. Fellow workmen had to take his body down from the pole on which he was working, when the 2300 volts shot through his body.

Mrs. Minna Quentin, mother of August and Otto Quentin of this city and Arthur H. Quentin of St. Louis, died at the home of her son Otto, 1102 Edmund street, Thursday.

Magnus Peterson, 80 years of age, died at his home, 602 South 14th street, Thursday.

THERE WILL BE MANY ANGRY WAR VETERANS

WHEN CONGRESS COMPLETES ITS SESSION IN THE FALL AND ADJOURNS

FOR THERE WILL BE NO BONUS BILL WHATEVER

The Present Bonus Bill Will Probably Pass the Senate for There Are Enough Votes There to Pass It But It Would Be Vetoed by the Chief Executive and This Senate Would Not Pass It Over the Veto of the President for the Necessary Two-thirds Could Not Be Secured.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(Special News Correspondence.)—This session of Congress will finally end somewhere along in the fall, and when it ends there will be some angry war veterans in the country, for the simple reason that when the session ends there will be no bonus bill of any sort whatever. Scores of Republican congressmen have made the walking ring with their demagogic speeches about what they are going to do for the world war soldiers. Many of them have certainly realized all the while that there will be no bonus passed in this Congress; when I say passed, I mean, made into law. The present bonus bill will probably pass the Senate, for there are enough votes on record there to pass it, but if it passes the Senate it will not be signed by the President, and if the backers of the bill try to pass it over the President's veto they will probably succeed in the House and will, in all likelihood, fail in the Senate. Few men will sit in Congress and vote to pass a bill over the veto of the head of their party, and this requires a two-thirds majority.

The Demagoguery of Fess

Of all the men who have demagogued on this important measure, probably the worst and most ridiculous position is occupied by Simeon D. Fess, of Ohio, who owes most of his fame to the fact that he has gotten about all the members of his family on the pay roll at Washington. Next to golf, fattening the Fesses is one of the most popular sports in administration circles. Two years ago Fess voted against the bonus and spoke against it; he had a little congressional district all sewed up and it was pleasing to his heavy campaign contributors for him to vote that way, but now he is dropping that succulent bone, like the dog that crossed the brook, to grab at a shadow. In Fess' case, the shadow represents the seat so ably filled by Senator Pomerene. Now, Fess has switched about and is for the bonus. It is a curious coincidence that Fess is in the confidence of the White House, and others enjoying the same relation tell their friends that Harding will veto the bonus bill if it comes to him. So, perhaps the canny Fess is playing safe after all—voting for the bill to please the soldiers and their friends, all the while keeping his fingers crossed, knowing that his vote will help the boys not in the least.

The Honesty of Garrett

In contrast, the attitude of Finis Garrett was strikingly honest; he opposed the bill because he believed it a poor bill for the boys and a piece of insincere demagoguery which was never intended to become a law. Fess now is for the bill, but two years ago he thought very much as Garrett did, for he gave an interview to the New York Herald in which he said: "There is little merit in the bill." The thing the Republicans then most feared was Kitchin's statement that if the majority would allow the bill to be amended—he would submit amendments to raise all the money needed for the bonus by a tax on profiteers—the fellows who are causing the consumer to pay $1.71 for the commodities which could be bought for a dollar in 1914.

WALLACE BASSEFORD.

With prohibition prohibiting so strongly that it can be heard to squeak, ten people were picked up by the police Wednesday night and held for liquor violations.

Harley Wells, M. B. Day and J. B. Willy were fined $15 each in police court Thursday for speeding.

The rails for the street car line on Frederick Avenue are not yet here and are delaying the work.

Dr. John F. Caskey and family have returned from Big Stone Lake.

GOODING NOW IN CHARGE OF THE VAUDEVILLE

HE IS TRYING TO DO THE STUNTS THAT CAUSED McCUMBER'S DOWNFALL

THINKS THAT HE IS A BETTER RINGMASTER

With His German Razor and Koffie, His Lamp Chimney of the same Origin, His Prussian Dog Muzzle and Jugoslavian Razor Hair Supplemented With Several Aluminum Spoons Not of the Mellon Variety He Is Performing Much to the Amusement of the American People.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(Special Correspondence.)—With an international collection of commercial curiosities, Senator Gooding (Rep., Ida.) has sought to repeat the previous vaudeville of Chairman McCumber (Rep., N. Dak.) as an entertainer of the Senate and the public. (P. 8.—Senator McCumber has since got the "hook" from his republican constituents.)

Senator Gooding's "properties" consisted of a German razor, a ditto pocketknife, a lamp chimney of the same origin, a Prussian dog muzzle warranted to be almost as good as a Lodge canteen, a genuine Jugoslavian razor hone, several aluminum spoons (not of Secretary Mellon's material), a German peddock, a bottle of Norwegian cod liver oil, two electric irons and certain miscellany.

With these magic articles—all indispensable to American men and women, except the razor—Senator Gooding attempted various feats of magic and prestidigitation designed to show that no matter how bad a republican tariff bill may be there are some foreign products that are worse.

"Let me say that there is but one possible chance in America to give the men who are out of employment an opportunity to supply their families with the necessities of life, and that is to embody the American valuation plan in the provisions of the pending

(Continued on Page 5)

WILL ACT TODAY

On Walter W. Head's Proposition to Bring the Boy Scouts Congress Over.

Action will be taken at Paris, France, today on a proposition of Walter W. Head of the American National Bank of this city on bringing the international congress of the Boy Scouts to America and to Omaha or St. Louis when it meets two years hence.

The international body has been in session this week and concludes its labors today. Mr. Head is one of the four delegates from the United States.

BURGLARS BREAK INTO SABIN HOME

About 11:30 last Monday night Mrs. Bert Sabin of 2406 Patee street was awakened by a noise in her room and found two burglars were paying her home a visit. She screamed and the men made their escape, taking with them Mr. Sabin's pants which contained his gold which the officials and employees at the city where Mr. Sabin is elevator conductor, had given him for a Christmas present, and $5 cents in money. The scoundrel who robbed this hapless crippled man had effected an entrance by chopping out the screen on the back door, the axe with which it was done being found standing beside the door. Buckshot vigorously propelled from a shot gun is good for such contemptible cattle.

BILLY PRESCOTT IS SUDDENLY CALLED

After being elected committeeman for the Fifth ward Tuesday, William W. Prescott, deputy state beverage inspector, died at his home, 617 South Fourteenth street, at an early hour Wednesday morning of an attack of heart disease superinduced by acute pneumonia. He was one of the well known Democratic politicians of this city, and had held his present office since the time of Gov. Major. He was 58 years of age and is survived by his wife, his mother and three sisters. The funeral occurred yesterday and was largely attended.

Gov. Hyde on Thursday appointed Col. J. H. McCord of this city as a member of the Missouri coal commission who will have control of the fuel supply in this state from now on until better conditions obtain.